PRESIDENT WRITES...

SMESA Website, SMESA Tutors

The importance of communication cannot be denied. In the course of the year, there are fresh ideas, happenings and work in progress, which we may not be ready for reporting in our Newsletter. "President writes" aims to bridge this gap.

In recent months, we have been working hard on our new SMESA Website to improve communications between alumni members and students – former and current. Our history, coming events and a gallery of photographs to bring nostalgia to our readers are some of the subjects in the Website. We will also have a Business Directory and hope that many more ex-students will come forward to offer job-shadowing placements for St. Margaret's students.

SMSS is running a Night Study Programme at the School from 4.30 pm to 7.00 pm. In response to this meaningful programme, we have started SMESA Tutors. SMESA Tutors will be a pool of ex-students supporting SMSS in this Programme. We are looking for ex-students to volunteer their services towards this worthy project. Please do contact us if you can help the students. Let us know your preferred time(s), day(s) and subject(s). I look forward to hearing from you.

All Blessings,
Lee Soo Kwan

Opening of Aurora Butterfly Garden @ SMSS

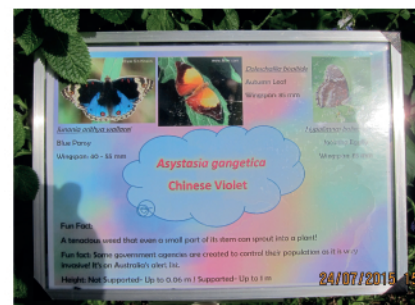

SMSS has set up a butterfly garden called the Aurora Butterfly Garden at the corner of its Indoor Sports Hall. Its purpose is to promote biodiversity in the School. Nine species of plants, each attracting their specific types of butterflies, were planted in this Garden. This Garden not only serves as a platform for students to learn scientific concepts in an authentic setting but also to promote students' appreciation and care for the nature as they visit the garden.

SMESA's President, Lee Soo Kwan, was honoured to be invited to open this Garden on 24 July 2015.

This project was carried out in collaboration with the NParks under the Community in Nature (CIN) national movement. The purpose of the movement is to connect and engage different groups in the community to conserve Singapore's natural heritage.

A group of SMSS students have taken up the role of SMSS CIN volunteers. This group participates in various outreach projects, including the recent Festival of Biodiversity at Vivocity on the last weekend of June 2015.

SMPS GREEN DOT DAY 2015

St. Margaret's Primary School holds an annual carnival to raise funds. This year, it was held for the first time at the secondary school on 1 August.

By LINDA LING

This is a good opportunity for the Primary 6 students to familiarise themselves in the Secondary School in anticipation of them joining the School in the following year.

SMESA had a stall selling tubs of aloe vera ice jelly and cups of fruit jelly. The cold jelly was very popular especially when the weather was so hot. The jelly also helped to cool the students down after their participation in the zumba and other games.

There were many gifts and games stalls to keep the young and old entertained. Parents and grandparents came to support their young ones in sports as well as zumba. Souvenirs with the school logo such as umbrellas, magnets, thumb drives, teddy bears and bags were available for sale.

Everyone had a great time with the variety of food and games, which brought back happy memories of their childhood. Meeting their former teachers was an additional bonus. It was a happy gathering for the clan once more.

SMESA SPEAKER'S SERIES

The SMESA Speaker's Series invites ex-students to share their experiences and journey after St. Margaret's, to give a glimpse of the exciting world outside - full of opportunities but also paved with challenges.

BY HO LIAN GEOK

On 29th May, we were delighted to have Mrs Michelle Wong, a mediator in the State Courts, the Singapore Mediation Centre, the Community Mediation Centre and the Consumers Association of Singapore, as our fifth speaker for the Series on the last day of the first semester.

In citing her visit to St. Margaret's Chapel at Edinburgh Castle in Scotland, Mrs Wong drew on the qualities associated with Queen Margaret - "charity", "patience" and "devotion", to highlight "patience" as a necessary trait of a mediator. She gave a broad overview of mediation where the options of litigation, arbitration and mediation were explained. Her talk highlighted litigation and mediation, where the latter seeks to turn the antagonism between two parties into collaboration by adopting the five styles in the Thomas-Kilman Conflict Management Styles model. The ideal solution of benefitting both parties can be achieved if their interests are met. It is this challenge of identifying the interests of the parties that confronts the mediator.

Mrs Wong pointed out that a mediator would need "common sense, good listening skills, a sense of humour, an ability to deal in an even-handed manner and with feet firmly planted on the ground". For the "infinite patience" required in mediation work, she suggested that perhaps a St. Margaret's alumna, who had been inculcated with the value in school, would make a good mediator.

Our students have, no doubt, learnt much about the art of mediation after the speaker's presentation. Other than minimising money, time and emotions expended, the importance of avoiding conflict translates into reduced hostility, healing and/or restorative effects and morality and/or civic duty. Mrs Wong ended her talk by exhorting the students to do what would make them happy and to be the best that they could be in what they chose to do.

The event concluded with Mdm Lee Lin Yee, Principal of SMSS, presenting a St. Margaret's teddy bear to Mrs Wong as a token of appreciation.

TEACHERS' DAY DINNER 2015

The Teachers' Day Dinner was held on 28 August 2015 at the M Hotel Ballroom. The theme was "Red/White With a Grateful Heart". It represents the years spent by the teachers in educating the future citizens of Singapore.

BY BRIDGET CHOY

01

It was like the first day of Chinese New Year. We were like the "Red Sea". Most of the teachers and committee members were dressed in red/white theme. It was befitting the joyous mood of the occasion, especially because Singapore is celebrating SG50 this year.

The event was sponsored by SMC. It was organized by PTA and assisted by PSG and SMESA. A photo booth, beautifully set by PTA, was used by the teachers for their photo sessions.

The PTA prepared a lovely heart-shaped SG50 bookmark and a food voucher were given to everyone as a door gift.

The MC selected a few teachers to play charades. They revealed the teachers' hidden acting talent, which resulted in peals of laughter from the audience.

Three teachers were selected to enact a political rally. They had to make impromptu speeches on topics given by the audience/MC. They spoke on transporting children to schools on free aeroplane rides, giving $2,000 per month to mothers to have babies, etc. Some of the teachers will make good politicians when they retire from the teaching profession!

There was a treasure hunt too. Teachers from each table had to produce 10 items (a plaster, sunglasses, safety pin, 5-cent coin, medication, e.g. tiger balm, belt, watch with black strap, red lipstick, Popular membership card and perfume). There was much excitement and running around as each team tried to get all the required items before rushing to the stage to present their prized possessions.

There was a quiz on historical facts concerning Singapore where the teachers from each table had to write their answers before handing them to the President of SMESA and Chairperson of PSG to mark their answers.

In between all the above activities, Bingo was also conducted. It was a fun-filled evening where our childhood games were played once more. Our appreciation to SMC, PTA, PSG, SMESA, SMPS and SMSS for organising this event.

God Bless and Happy Teachers' Day.

VISIT TO ST. ANDREW'S CATHEDRAL HOME FOR THE AGED

SMESA brought char siew pau for the 20 residents and three staff members of the Home. After chatting with them during the tea, we organised a sing along session. We sang "To God Be The Glory", "Daisy Bell (Bicycle Built For Two)", "Michael", "If You Are Happy" which included actions like clapping hands and stamping feet. Quite good exercise for everyone after the tea session. Some popular Chinese songs were also sung.

This was followed by SMESA member Suraja telling the Old Testament bible story of Naomi and Ruth. The residents also participated in an origami session. Some made aeroplanes, boats, frogs, cranes, balls, etc. It brought back happy memories for most of the residents. Everyone enjoyed the session, which was full of laughter and smiles.

Before we left the Home, every resident was given an ang pow, which was contributed by Board members from SMESA.

We experienced such joy ourselves although our objective was to bring some cheer to the residents of the Home.
